DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a method of obtaining hydrogen, classified in class 429, subclass 13.
 - II. Claims 15-19, drawn to a method of operating a fuel cell, classified in class 429, subclass 17.
 - III. Claims 20-26, drawn to a method of heating a fuel cell, classified in class 429, subclass 26.
 - IV. Claims 27-44, drawn to a fuel cell, classified in class 429, subclass 12.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I, II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions have different modes of operation.

Invention I passes a gas stream over an anode effluent stream and obtains a hydrogen gas stream from the anode effluent stream

In contrast to that of Invention I, Invention II operates a fuel cell during start up by replenishing the stored hydrogen by passing a hydrogen gas steam obtained from an anode effluent stream into a hydrogen storage unit.

In contrast to that of Inventions I and II, Invention III heats a fuel cell by passing oxygen over an active material in a hydrogen storage unit to create an exothermic reaction and uses the heat from the reaction to heat the fuel cell.

3. Inventions III and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the process of heating a fuel cell may be practiced by another and materially different apparatus such as by heat strips coiled inside the fuel cell and energized by an external power source can be used to pre-heat the fuel cell wherein the external power source can be any suitable source such as a battery powered generator.

4. Inventions I and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the process of obtaining hydrogen can be practiced by another and materially different process such as by an electrolytic cell.

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1745

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
